31 Hurt In Los Angeles Street Explosion

SECTION OF HALF BILLION PAVING SHOT HIGH IN AIR

Panic at Premiere In Orpheum Theater Averted By Calmness of Actor

CROWD IS STUNNED

Mad Scenes in Lobby and Front of Theater Keep Police and Firemen Busy

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7.—(UP)—An underground explosion in front of the Orpheum theater here last night injured 31 persons, two seriously, in a crowd straining police lines at the world's premiere of a talking picture starring Richard Dix.

The film "Cimarron," had just been completed and Fred Niblo, Hollywood director, was introducing members of the cast from the stage when the theater and nearby buildings on Broadway, between Eighth and Ninth streets, were rocked.

A huge section of pavement shot into the air, hurling a taxicab skyward and throwing men, women and children to the street.

Two men, William Urquhart, 28, and Dave Freedman, 32, were seriously injured. They suffered concussions of the brain.

Arthur Camp, chauffeur for Pearl Eaton, dance director at the R-K-O studios, was standing at the entrance of the theater and suffered cuts and bruises.

Driver Escapes
George Delk, driver of the demolished taxicab, miraculously escaped death. He was found to be only cut and bruised when police pulled him from the wreckage of his cab.

The blast created a panic among the hundreds of spectators outside the Orpheum, and a near panic in the crowds viewing the performance.

Police and firemen stationed at the theater immediately re-established barricades and cleared the entrance to the showhouse.

NEW POLICIES LAID DOWN BY SECY. STIMSON

Announces Abandonment of Interference in Latin American Nations

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—(UP)—In his first public speech on America's present foreign policy, Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson last night interpreted it as an abandonment of interference in South American countries and a willingness to recognize any new government which can and will fulfill its international obligations.

This policy represents an abandonment of that of President Wilson, which he described as a source of controversy in the western hemisphere for nearly two decades, and a return to the Jeffersonian theory. As interpreted by the Hoover administration, Secretary Stimson said, this rests upon three basic elements:

1.—The Monroe Doctrine, he said, is "a declaration of the United States against Europe and not the United States against Latin America." It guarantees the rights of South American republics as independent nations.

2.—A different situation exists in Central America. There, he said, our policy of not recognizing any government coming into power through revolution has prevented much bloodshed, since revolutions heretofore were practically a yearly occurrence.

3.—The policy of non-interference by the United States is carried out by the recent embargo upon the shipment of arms to rebels by American manufacturers.

The speech, delivered before the council on foreign relations, later was broadcast over the Columbia system and sent by short wave to South America. John W. Davis, former ambassador to England in the Wilson administration, presided at the dinner. Owen D. Young, author of the European debt settlement, was among the guests.

10 CRIMINALLY INSANE ESCAPE FROM HOSPITAL

Manage to Flee Following Fire in Male Ward of Tennessee Asylum

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 7.—(UP)—Ten criminally insane men were at large today after having escaped during the confusion at a fire in the male ward of the central state hospital here last night.

At least three of the men were considered "killers," hospital authorities said. Police and hospital guards began an organized search of the city and vicinity for the men.

Hospital guards and officials marched the 600 occupants of the male ward to safety in the asylum yard. Firemen extinguished the blaze after a brief fight. The fire is believed to have been caused by a short circuit in the lighting system. Damage was estimated at $2,500.

Every available Nashville policeman was called to aid guards in forming a picket line about the inmates. During the confusion 10 of the men slipped through the lines, but most of them stood huddled together quietly.

One of the most dangerous of the escaped inmates was Arnold S. Riggo, 24, New York, who was said to have shown an obsession of hate since he was convicted of holding up a drug store.

$323,000 IS EXPENDED FOR COUNTY VETS

Welfare Board Spends This Amount For Purchase of Homes, Farms

HOMES AND FARMS purchased for California veterans by the Veterans Welfare Board in the last year have lessened the effects of unemployment and business depression in the state to a considerable degree.

When it is appreciated that a total of $36,134,547 has been spent in the state for these homes and farms, it is realized that unemployment and business conditions could have been worse were the money not placed in circulation through the veterans.

Orange county has enjoyed this aid to the extent of $323,280 including the purchases of homes and farms. Of this amount $305,686 bought homes for veterans and $17,594 bought farms.

This amount will be considerably increased in the next few months when the latest bond issue money will be available," said George M. Stout, secretary of the Veterans' Welfare Board.

The board expects during March and April to purchase homes and farms as rapidly as possible for those veterans whose applications have been approved. In the meantime attention is being given those applications before the board.

The purchase of homes outnumbered the purchases of farms by approximately 22 to 1. In this county 45 homes are enjoyed by veterans under the act. Farms numbering three are operated by veterans.

Expect To Pass Bill Next Week

Loan Limit on Certificates Will Be Increased to Fifty Percent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(UP)—House Democrats swung in line today for the $500,000,000 Bachrach compromise bonus proposal to increase the loan limit on veterans' adjusted service certificates. This would assure its speedy passage in the house.

Democratic Floor Leader Garner approved the plan and predicted the measure would be passed by the house next week.

Garner has promised Republican leaders Democratic support in the house. He said the loan limit, now 25 per cent of the face value of the certificates, probably would be increased to 50 per cent as the sponsor of the proposal, Representative Bachrach (Republican, New Jersey) has suggested.

The interest rate on all loans on certificates would be reduced from six to four percent.

At the same time, assurance of prompt action was given by leaders on the senate finance committee when the measure gets to that body. The committee postponed consideration of proposals before it today to await drafting of the compromise by the house committee.

Garner explained it was essentially the same in effect as his own plan to pay veterans the present cash value of their certificates. The increased loan limit proposed would be 10 percent less than the present cash value of the certificates.

$20,000,000 Compromise to Be Embodied in Interior Department Bill

EARLY ACTION SEEN

Advances to Be Made Farmers Without Stipulating What It's Used For

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(UP)—The conference report on the interior department appropriation bill containing the $20,000,000 compromise drought relief plan was submitted to the senate late today.

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(UP)—House and senate conferees agreed today on the $20,000,000 drought relief project announced last night. Senator Jones, Republican, Washington, said the agreement was substantially the same as that previously made public.

Representative Grant, Republican, Michigan, told the United Press that the project provided the $20,000,000 for loans to rehabilitate the drought and storm stricken farms.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(UP)—Senate and house conferees were called into session today to write the $20,000,000 rehabilitation relief compromise into the interior department appropriation bill.

The meeting was scheduled for this afternoon with prospects that the proposal would be embodied in the bill quickly.

There was a spirit of good feeling manifest generally about the move today as a result of the compromise.

House Republican Floor Leader Tilton, who was most adamant against a compromise for days, issued a formal statement today, saying it was "gratifying" that the compromise eliminated the question of appropriating money from the treasury for the Red Cross.

RAIN, SNOW IN MIDWEST ENDS DROUGHT REIGN

Heavy Precipitation Over Southern Illinois Is Heartily Welcomed

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—(UP)—Light snows and rains fell today in many sections of the country, with heavier precipitation in a few scattered areas bringing relief from the serious winter drought conditions.

Precipitation, varying in degree from showers, drizzles and snow flurries in most sections to downpours in the scattered few, were general yesterday throughout middlewestern states which suffered most from the droughts of last year and this winter.

The heaviest rains of the day were reported last night in southern Illinois, where it was most needed as the water famine has become acute.

Light snow was followed by rain in Chicago, but the total precipitation was scarcely more than a trace. In some sections of the Rocky Mountain area and in parts of North Dakota, Minnesota, Montana, Wisconsin and Michigan, snowfalls were reported, but in no section was there any prospect of what ordinarily could be considered a typical February storm.

Forecasts today were for more rain in the midwest; probable rain on the west coast; possible showers in the southwest; fair and colder weather in the Rockies, warmer and possibly showers along the Atlantic coast, and possible rain in the south.

Capture Driver After He Crashes Into Two Cars

RUNS AMUCK IN LAGUNA REGION BEFORE ARREST

When an asserted escaped inmate man ran amuck in Laguna Beach last night, in a car which officers reported was stolen from Seal Beach, consternation reigned in the small Orange county town.

The man was Stacey C. Stephens, 34, who is asserted to have escaped from the Los Angeles psychiatric farm. He was taken into custody at Boat canyon, a short distance from Laguna Beach, after he had wrecked the car and had crashed with two other machines, according to a report received here.

In a narrow fill at the canyon he narrowly missed a car driven by Mrs. Cyrus Hickman, side-swiped a car driven by H. H. Paires, of 543 Anita street, Laguna Beach, and then overturned the coupe driven by H. L. Budlong, of 430 West Fourth street, Santa Ana. After striking the Budlong machine, Stephens' car is said to have gone over an embankment of 10 feet. The man was not hurt. Stephens has but one eye, wore dark glasses and thought he was driving from Long Beach to Los Angeles, it was reported.

Asks For Damages Over Attachment

Jack Granz, Fullerton merchant, whose stock of merchandise, which he states is valued at $9000, was attached in connection with a suit for $223 brought against him in the Fullerton justice court by F. H. Lyon, has filed suit in superior court against Joe B. Mitchell, constable, who levied the attachment, and others, seeking damages in the amount of $8700 and release of all of his merchandise except a portion large enough to cover the attachment.

His complaint asserts that the attachment was levied on February 3 against the entire stock of merchandise and that the defendants in his suit have refused his offer to set aside any portion of it to secure the attachment. He asserts that the ordinary transaction of his business is being interfered with by their refusal and wants a court order to compel release of the stock.

SECTION OF PAVING SHOT HIGH IN AIR

Injured persons were taken to nearby drug stores to wait for ambulances.

The congestion was terrific in all streets near the theater and fire apparatus and ambulances had difficulty reaching the scene. Hoses were strung and the subterranean fire was extinguished within a short time.

Only the fact that the Orpheum revived a rapidly disappearing custom of introducing stars after a premiere saved celebrities from injury.

Most of Hollywood's prominent remained to see and hear Dix, Irene Dunn, Robert McWade and a few of the cast.

Stars Witnesses. A few, however, left the show as soon as the picture ended and were eyewitnesses to the blast. Mack Bennett, producer, and Marjorie Beebe, actress, were slightly stunned and their clothing was blackened, but they were not hurt. They were standing on the curb waiting for Sennett's chauffeur.

Constance Bennett and her escort also were outside the theater at the time. The star dropped an expensive ermine coat which was trampled by the crowd. A middle-aged woman gave an eye witness description to the United Press as she was placed in a police ambulance. She was bruised and blackened from the blast.

"I was standing in the street with my son and daughter waiting to see the stars," she said. "Suddenly there was a roar and the pavement seemed to lift and roll. A taxicab shot straight into the air. People were thrown to the ground. It was a miracle some of us were not killed."

The Pig 'N Whistle cafe, next door to the Orpheum, experienced a heavy loss. Glassware and plaster fell and decorations in the place were ruined.

Windows were shattered in the buildings within a block radius. The Columbia Outfitting building, one of the newest skyscrapers in Los Angeles, was damaged. Window panes fell from the first six floors.

E. D. BURGE PROPERTY ON EAST FIRST STREET SOLD TODAY UNDER FORECLOSURE

Another chapter in the affairs of E. D. Burge, former wealthy Santa Ana resident, who it is reported has lost thousands of dollars in the last seven years in the cattle and oil business and his venture in boat building, was written today on the south steps of the court house, when his property on East First street was sold under foreclosure of a second trust deed.

The sale, conducted by George Parker, secretary of the Orange County Title company, trustee, resulted in stubborn bidding between J. E. Prentice, of Santa Ana, holder of the trust deed, which was in the amount of $10,000, and Mabel Francis, friend of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Moore, formerly of Los Angeles and Ontario, present owners of the Burge place. The first bid of $11,324.47, which covered the amount of the trust deed, interest and costs, was made by Prentice. It mounted in $50 jumps, with three increases of $100 each on separate occasions, to a final price of $12,650.

Judge H. G. Ames has granted an interlocutory decree of divorce to Carrie B. Baade from Christian L. Baade. The complaint charged cruel and inhuman treatment. They were married in 1927 and separated in October, 1930.

Judgment for the plaintiff was rendered yesterday by Judge James L. Allen after a trial of the action brought against Mae W. Basore, et al, by Harriet E. Coleman. A 15-day stay of execution was granted by the court. The plaintiff had sued asking restitution of property consisting of two lots in Huntington Beach from which she alleged she had been elected after the defendants had seized possession. She also asked for damages of $150 and $25 a month during the time she had been kept from the use of the property.

Judge James L. Allen has approved a compromise settlement in connection with an automobile damage case, whereby C. A. Danley is to pay Mary Louise Graski, four year old daughter of Felix Graski, $1000. The child suffered a broken leg in an accident at Anaheim on October 28, 1930, when she was struck by a car driven by Danley.

tions of funds will be made from the treasury for distribution as charity through the Red Cross or otherwise.

A progressive Republican back-fire was being set, however, in the senate against the compromise drought proposal and there is some evidence the compromise may be condemned by a few Democrats. But the Democratic leaders and particularly Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, who had much to do with forcing the issue to a show down, are making every effort to overcome the opposition now developing.

Caraway told the United Press today he was confident "President Hoover had reached the conclusion that we are entitled to help and that he wants to give it in the form of all necessities."

The plan now generally attributed to Mr. Hoover is to permit advances to farmers without stipulation as to the use to be made of the money, and such farmers as may not be able to provide credit are to be liberally cared for by the Red Cross. The Red Cross is expected next week to begin advancing money in Arkansas and other drought areas for the purchase of feed for livestock where individual credit will not permit federal loans.

GAS COMPANY WAGE BUDGET IS $340,400

Budget plans for Southern Counties Gas company in the Orange county district during 1931 include an amount in excess of $340,400 for wages, according to an announcement today by District Manager C. E. Rutledge.

In outlining the program of the gas company for the year, Rutledge stated that no reduction in wages or in the number of regular employees is contemplated.

"The program of the gas company, so far as employment is concerned, is that of 'business as usual.' In making this fact known, the gas company is acting in accord with many large employers of labor throughout the country who are taking this step to assist in the stabilization of economic conditions.

"In addition to its appropriation for wages in Orange county the gas company plans to expend, during the usual amount for improvements and betterments.

"We believe that pessimistic plans calling for reduction of man power or equipment would be poor business," said Rutledge. "Business is good, and it will be better. The general demand for commodities is approaching normal levels. Here in Southern California we are particularly fortunate in having no sudden or drastic drop in our continuing prosperity as compared with other sections of the country and California will be among the first to feel the return to normal conditions."

Asparagus was originally a wild sea coast plant and is a native of Great Britain.

ALLEN—To Mr. and Mrs. Leo W. Allen, of Tustin, Friday, February 6, 1931, a daughter.

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

"Why are you so fearful?" the Master asks. Fear begets slavery, blindness, and grief, loss, failure and despair.

You are afraid that yesterday's mistakes may haunt you today. You are afraid that today's joys are fleeting. You are afraid that your hopes may not be fulfilled. Therefore life becomes a nightmare of dread suspense, you seek safety for accomplishment is diminished and peace and happiness elude you.

Make anew your venture of faith in God's Presence with you. His unfathomable love, His guiding voice and His unshakable strength. When your life is attuned to His perfect will, you will have no more fear. Trust Him and your life will be transformed.

DRIVER GIVEN EXONERATION AFTER INQUEST

A coroner's jury, in an inquest at San Clemente hospital late yesterday over the bodies of the three victims of the Pacific Greyhound bus disaster, near Serra, early Thursday morning, returned a verdict of accidental death and exonerated the driver of the vehicle, John Weston, of responsibility for the flames which snuffed out three lives and seriously burned four other persons.

Leo Popvin, sailor on the U. S. S. Kingfisher, was the last of the burned victims to die. He passed away at the San Clemente hospital yesterday afternoon and the inquest was held his death also was investigated.

The other two persons to die in the flames were Mrs. Velma Cole, 27, of Grants Pass, Ore., and a sailor known as "Whitey." There was nothing at the inquest that aided Coroner Charles D. Brown in his attempts to identify the sailor, other than that he was not near the bus at the time it burst into flames, and his identity today is as much a mystery as it was at the time of the fire.

There was a flurry of excitement at the inquest yesterday when Dr. Garnett Grant, of the San Clement hospital, testified that Mrs. Cole had told him, shortly before she died, that Weston, the driver of the bus, had tossed a cigarette out the bus, which made the stage an inferno within a few seconds.

The charge was instantly denied by Weston, however, who testified that he did not use tobacco in any form and that the bus did not burst into flames at the time it was near the bus.

Joe Clever, state traffic officer, who took Popvin to the hospital, testified that the sailor told him that another sailor had tossed a cigarette out of a window, causing the flames.

Assistant General Manager J. H. Hodge, of the Greyhound company, and its attorney, T. G. Cornyn, testified in an effort to identify the sailor known as "Whitey" and did manage to prove that he was not R. E. Landham or Glenn Mead, two other sailors on the bus at the time. They reported that the signatures of all the survivors on that bus had been obtained and that these two men had been accounted for in this manner.

That the sailor "Whitey" may have been "Whitey" Goodwin, who visited at the home of Elmer Nearing, at Garden Grove Wednesday, the day before the accident, was disproved when Nearing testified that this "Whitey" left Santa Ana on a bus at 7 p. m. Wednesday and was not on the ill-fated bus.

SEEK TO ANNUL SON'S WEDDING

Asking annulment of a marriage to which their son was a party, which occurred in Riverside on July 2, 1929, and which has resulted in the birth of a child, now one year old, suit was filed in superior court yesterday by Charles D. and Jessie Woodward against Herbert F. and Grace Weaver Woodward.

The action is brought on the ground that the son, whom the complaint states is 20 years of age, was under legal age at the time of the marriage and did not have the consent of his parents. The complaint states that the young couple lived together only three months after the marriage. It also states that the father of the child is able to provide for its support, but that the best interests of the child can be served by leaving it with the mother at present, who now has custody and control of the baby, which is a girl.

Calvin Coolidge Says . . . . .

BY CALVIN COOLIDGE

Former President of the United States

NORTHAMPTON, Feb. 7.—

We do not often think what an important service for all the people is performed by the banks. When matters are going smoothly we naturally take results for granted. We assume that in some way banking goes on under its own power something like the flow of water or the rays of the sun.

But our banking system works a high degree of efficiency because of the skill and industry of the men who conduct it. Scarcely two generations have passed since bank currency was unified and stabilized. Under the old state system all kinds of bank notes of uncertain value circulated. Now every bank note is worth its face value.

The supply of credit is of enormous importance. In the younger parts of the nation towns prosper or decline according to the character of the men who operate the banks. We have bank failures but there is no safer place outside the government to keep money. Our banking system is not yet perfect, but on the whole it is sound and well managed. Governmental and private studies are constantly being made for its improvement. It furnishes the sound currency, abundant credit, and facility of exchange which are the life blood of commerce. The people have no more important public servant.

TWO DIVORCES ARE ISSUED IN COURT FRIDAY

Three divorce complaints and one action for separate maintenance which came up for hearings in superior court yesterday afternoon, resulted in the issuance of two interlocutory decrees, one order of the court and one continuance.

Winners of interlocutory decrees of divorce were Laverne Harrell Milbrat and Mayme Rudolph. Judge G. K. Scovel granted the decree to Mrs. Milbrat from Walter Milbrat after hearing evidence to substantiate charges of cruelty. Mrs. Rudolph was granted her decree from Frank Rudolph by Judge H. G. Ames. The complaint was based on charges of desertion and failure to provide. They were married in Kenosha, Wis., in 1904, and separated in 1926.

The hearing on an order for separate maintenance also was conducted before Judge Scovel, who issued the order requiring Joseph L. Purtha to pay $50 each month for the support of his wife, Irene E. Purtha, and child. The mother was given the custody of the child.

After dismissing the third cause of action in which a Jane Doe respondent was named, in the divorce proceedings brought against Norman J. Hallum by Marguerite Hallum, evidence was presented to the court on charges of cruelty and habitual intemperance. The case was continued by Judge Scovel until February 13 for further testimony and proceedings. Mrs. Hallum was represented by Attorney Clara Cushman.

TWO PLEAD GUILTY OVER FORGED NOTE

Following arraignment before Judge H. G. Ames late yesterday afternoon two guilty pleas were entered to a charge of uttering a forged note by the men who were jointly charged by the office of District Attorney Sam L. Collins with the offense.

The guilty plea, entered by Colthel Aldridge, who waived time for pronouncement of judgment, led to a sentence to Folsom prison for the term prescribed by law. The other man named in the information is Walter Green, who pleaded guilty. He entered an application for probation, and the hearing was set for February 20.

The men were alleged to have signed a $10 traveler's check with the name of Mrs. Robert Samuelson, the person to whom it was purported to have been issued.

Alvin and Marjorie Frazier earlier in the day yesterday pleaded guilty to a similar charge before Judge Ames and asked probation. Their hearing was also set for February 20.

AUTO RUNS 59 MILES ON GALLON OF GAS

Automobile engineers who worked for years in an effort to reduce gasoline consumption have found the solution in a marvelous invention that fits all cars.

An actual test made by one of the engineers showed 59 miles on a gallon of gas. Thousands of car owners have already installed this new invention. They not only report amazing gas savings but are also surprised to find quicker pick-up, instant starting, smoother running motors and disappearance of carbon. The Whirlwind Mfg. Co., Dept. 1498-N, Station C, Milwaukee, Wis., for a limited time is offering a free device to those who will help introduce it. He also needs men everywhere to make over $100 weekly in their own territory taking care of local business. Write him at once for free sample and big money making offer.—Adv.

Thief Almost Ready To Harness Up

Sheriff's officers want the man who stole three horse collars from the Bixby ranch several days ago, and they want him worse today than they did yesterday, for last night $250 worth of harness, six sets, were reported stolen from James Farrar, at Westminster, and authorities believe that the same thief is responsible for both thefts.

There were a number of collars lying in a house with the harness but the thief did not take them. For this reason the sheriff's officers who investigated believed that the man already had enough collars.

Starving Chemist Given Treatment In San Clemente

SAN CLEMENTE, Feb. 7.—Starving, Gaston Gervais, Ph. D., a chemist, 434 Rue Du Lyons, Paris, France, fainted at the south boundary of San Clemente late yesterday afternoon as he trudged his way to San Diego in the rain. Roy Divil's ambulance rushed to the scene and brought Gervais to the San Clemente hospital. Dr. Garnett B. Grant examined him and stated he was suffering from starvation and exposure.

Gervais will remain at the hospital at least three days, Dr. Grant said.

The chemist was born in San Francisco and moved with his parents to Paris when a small boy. He is a product of the Paris universities and recently decided to visit America. Jobs were scarce, funds were low, friends there were none.

PICKARD TELLS ABOUT AIM OF MILITARY BALL

As preliminary plans are perfected for the third annual Military ball of Jack Fisher chapter, Disabled American Veterans of the World War on February 21, officers of the chapter and members of the citizens' committee who are bending every effort to make the 1931 ball an outstanding success, have pointed out the urgent need for just such aid as its proceeds give to the county's disabled veterans.

"Because of the economic situation that has prevailed for the past year, the welfare work of the chapter is materially increased," today pointed out Harry S. Pickard, publicity chairman of the D. A. V., as he explained that all funds realized from the annual ball are used to assist disabled veterans who are temporarily unable to meet their obligations as citizens. "The Military ball was the idea of the late Jack Fisher, who was commander of the Orange county D. A. V. at the time of his death," Pickard continued. "He conceived the idea of an annual ball as a means of raising funds to place the chapter in a position to assist its members who find it difficult, if not impossible, to compete with able bodied men in the industrial field."

"This welfare phase of our activities has been materially increased in the past year, and prospects are that conditions will remain unchanged for a number of months to come. H. O. Rasmussen, commander of the chapter, has expressed the hope that people throughout the county will co-operate to the fullest extent possible so that the chapter funds may be sufficiently replenished to take care of all meritorious cases of disabled veterans during the next 12 months."

The selection of Orange as the scene of the current year's event seems to be very well received, according to members of the ticket committee, who find that its central location, its easy accessibility, and the attractions of the Orange American Legion clubhouse are all spoken of favorably throughout the county. The co-operation of the Orange American Legion in placing the clubhouse at the disposal of the D. A. V. also has aroused favorable comment, not only among members of the citizens' committee, but by the public in general.

The citizens' committee, comprising prominent men and women from every section of Orange county, will meet Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the A. G. Flagg home, 1320 North Broadway, Santa Ana, for further discussion and perfection of plans.

Among these plans are provisions for entertaining various distinguished guests at the Military ball. Attractive invitations have been mailed to men prominent in the state's military and civic life, and responses already reaching the invitation committee, would indicate that the chapter will have the pleasure of entertaining many high ranking officers and noted personages of the state, assuring a colorful and brilliant spectacle.

Among songs will be "Ninety and Nine" and "The Parable of the Lost Sheep." He will be accompanied by his wife, Jean Rice. Miss Amanda Caesar, a graduate of the Chicago College of Music, will present violin numbers during the evening.

An Epworth league for young married people will be started at 6 o'clock. The group will include young people above high school and junior college age.

Tustin P.-T. A. Arranges Program

TUSTIN, Feb. 7.—Founder's day, with Mrs. Sam Preble, of Santa Ana, in charge, will be celebrated next Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock by the members of the grammar school P.-T. A. in the kindergarten room. The Laguna art exhibit will be on display in the room and Mrs. H. A. Wasson will speak on "How to Foster an Appreciation of Art in the Home." Miss Lucy Royce will discuss "Appreciation of Art in the School." The committee which was appointed to investigate the sale of candies in the school cafeteria will report and a general discussion will be held. All members and friends of the P.-T. A. are invited to attend the meeting.

GARDEN GROVE GRADE P.-T. A. HOLDS PROGRAM

GARDEN GROVE, Feb. 7.—The program presented at the grammar school P.-T. A. Thursday afternoon was given in observance of the 34th birthday anniversary of the organization.

A pageant, "Oracle Speaks," was a feature of the program. Those taking part were Mrs. Irvine German, Mrs. Lucille Walker, Mrs. Andrew Stanley, Mrs. D. E. Jordan, Mrs. Wayne Holt, members of the P.-T. A., and Virginia Stroud, eighth grade pupil.

Mrs. L. L. Trickey read an article on the history of the national P.-T. A.

Mrs. J. G. Allen gave the history of the local P.-T. A. and presented a birthday cake in observance of the 18th anniversary of the Garden Grove organization.

A short story circle on the subject, "Habits of Children," was conducted by Mrs. Krause. Mrs. Ward's seventh grade of the Washington school and Miss Durwood's second grade of the Lincoln school were represented by the most mothers.

At the social hour the fourth grade mothers were in charge and served the birthday cake with tea.

MATT GALLAGHER IS LIONS CLUB SPEAKER

Over-confidence is perhaps the greatest weakness of the American people—and their greatest strength—according to Matt Gallagher, baseball expert for the Los Angeles Express. The statement was made during a talk on sports prospects for 1931 delivered before the noon meeting of the Santa Ana Lions club at Ketter's cafe. The Santa Ana district has produced many outstanding sportsmen, Gallagher said, and these have been responsible for much valuable publicity to the community.

Musical numbers were given by Miss Irene Hubbell of the Wiley B. Allen music store, and Miss Ruth Campbell, soloist. Lynn Hart was chairman of the day, assisted by Andy Anderson and Mel Mellenthin. Next week's meeting will be held at 6:45 p. m. Friday. Rex Kennedy will be chairman, assisted by Bill Cook and Norman Sprowl.

Pastor, "Y" Head Address Group In Methodist Church

YORBA LINDA, Feb. 7.—"The success of any organization is 15 per cent efficiency and 85 per cent co-operation," said the Rev. Robert Young, pastor of the Methodist church of Torrance, as he spoke to 50 members of the Yorba Linda brotherhood on the opportunity which they have in a community. The meeting was held at the Methodist church after a pot luck supper, and Archie Raitt, north Orange county Y. M. C. A. secretary, preceded the Rev. Mr. Young on the program with an appeal to the men to get behind his work with the boys. Plans were made for a breakfast Thursday morning at 7 o'clock, at the church, with Raitt as cook, after which the men assembled will go on a drive for funds.

Mrs. Young gave several humorous dramatic readings before the talk, and at the close the Rev. Mr. Young directed the men in some amusing games. Community singing was led by Chester Day, with Mrs. Day at the piano.

INJUNCTION IS ASKED AGAINST SEWAGE DRAIN

Additional angles to the sanitary district argument involving Dana Point, in which certain residents of that community are seeking to have the territory annexed to the Capistrano Beach Sanitary district, while S. H. Woodruff, Dana Point subdivision, is seeking to have a separate district formed for this purpose by the county, were brought out yesterday in an action filed in superior court by the Title Insurance and Trust company, of Los Angeles, against Anna G. Walters et al.

The new suit asks an injunction against the maintenance of a drain, which it is said is used for sewage, waste and other matter, and an order of the court requiring the defendants to remove this drain, which it is alleged crosses the land of the plaintiff and discharges into the ocean at high tide line. Mrs. Walters, the first named defendant in the suit, is one of the principal petitioners in the move to annex Dana Point to the Capistrano Beach Sanitary district.

The discharge line constructed and maintained by the defendants, according to the complaint, which said the resultant diversion of natural drainage imposes great injury on the land of the plaintiff. It is also claimed by the plaintiff that its use results in obnoxious odors, that it pollutes the beach, and that it constitutes a menace to health, comfort and safety.

In connection with the petition to annex Dana Point to the Capistrano Beach Sanitary district, in which proceedings had been temporarily halted by injunction proceedings brought by Woodruff, a stipulation was entered before Judge H. G. Ames yesterday afternoon, whereby an additional temporary restraining order was granted preventing the Capistrano Beach district board from acting on the petition until after the question of formation of the Dana Point district, now pending before the board of supervisors, is definitely determined one way or the other.

ANAHEIM NAMED IN SUIT ON CONTRACT

Based on oral agreements and additions to a contract for furnishing labor and trucks in hauling material for street improvement work, suit was brought in superior court yesterday by F. E. La Point, against Atkinson and Reish, contractors, the Detroit Fidelity and Surety company and the city of Anaheim.

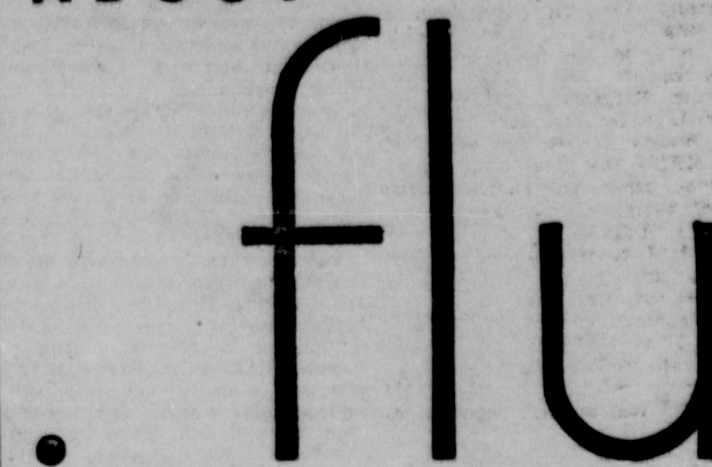

The suit grew out of work in

ARMY TO ABANDON SPRING FOOTBALL

WEST POINT, N. Y., Feb. 7.—(INS)—There will be no spring football training for the Cadets in the future.

The athletic council of the military academy came to that decision today, deciding the spring months should be devoted to athletic activities appropriate to that period of the year.

SOME COMMON SENSE ABOUT

Flu, colds, and pneumonia are again on the spread. And health authorities are everywhere urging all precautions.

Just what causes flu is not yet scientifically known. But a weakened, run-down condition may lessen our chances of escaping flu—just as it lessens our chances of escaping other winter ailments. So it's wise to keep our resistance high. Avoid worry and exposure. Eat wholesome food. Get plenty of rest, fresh air and exercise. And start at once to take a good, fortifying tonic.

Doctors advise Scott's Emulsion

Scott's Emulsion is recommended by doctors because it brings the remarkable health-building and disease-resisting vitamins of cod-liver oil—in the pleasantest way. Scott's Emulsion is emulsified. So it's free from that strong "fishy" taste. Easier to take. Easier to digest. And more quickly absorbed into the blood stream.

As a result, Scott's Emulsion benefits you almost immediately. It promptly strengthens and revitalizes weakened systems. It improves your weight and appetite. It increases your resistance against pesky colds and other winter diseases.

Wonderful for children!

Try Scott's Emulsion for pale, thin children, too. Made of purest, tested Norwegian cod-liver oil, Scott's Emulsion is rich in vitamin A, the growth-promoting vitamin that helps guard against disease. It is rich in vitamin D, the sunshine vitamin that prevents rickets. It also contains vital mineral elements that aid in forming sound bones and teeth.

And remember—Scott's Emulsion tastes good! Get a bottle at your nearest druggist's to-day!

Notice to Dieters!

Don't ruin your
of your figure . . .

It's all very well to meet today's requirements for a slim figure by dieting, but be careful of the dangers of drastic diets, which eliminate the nutritive values necessary to health. Milk is nature's most inexpensive food, yet it contains every strength-giving and nourishing element.

If you're anxious to drop a few pounds quickly, put yourself on a diet of 2 quarts of Raitt's milk or churned buttermilk a day, for three or four days; be sure to do your daily dozen, and get plenty of fresh air. You'll feel great.

Just telephone 768 or place your order with one of our courteous, dependable salesmen and tomorrow morning your supply of fresh, pure, fine milk will start.

TUSTIN RADIO PROGRAM LISTS DR. WOELLNER

An address by Dr. Frederick P. Woellner, noted speaker from the University of California at Los Angeles, as part of a patriotic program next Thursday devoted to the memory of Abraham Lincoln, was announced today by J. W. Means, principal of the Tustin Union High school from where the program will be broadcast by remote control over KREG.

A broadcast by Orange Union High school students on Wednesday a class discussion of unemployment on Monday, a home economics discussion on Tuesday and a probable discussion of etiquette on Friday are some of the other outstanding features of the week's broadcasts from Tustin, which start at 11 a. m. each school day.

Dr. Woellner is one of the most popular and worth while speakers of the Southland. His address will reach thousands of students and adults Thursday, through the medium of KREG. Assembly singing also will be a feature of Thursday's program.

Pipe organ music will be an important part of each day's program. Means today announced some of the questions which will be discussed on Monday. Adults are expected to gain considerable interest from thinking them over and comparing their conclusions with the ideas advanced by students on Monday.

Among the questions will be the following:

1. Are men now being practically driven to vagrancy?
2. Is it logical to attack the unemployment problem by anticipating wants now and hiring additional labor?
3. Is the slogan "spend more and save less" a sound one?
4. Is it true that "Henry Ford and Thomas Edison probably are more to blame than any other two men for the unemployment situation," as sometimes suggested?
5. What do you think of the statement that many women in industry would be more valuable to the nation and their families if they devoted their efforts to making good homes?
6. Should we discard machinery and employ men to dig ditches?
7. What are the arguments in favor of a shorter working day?

Telephone and telegraph companies in the United States lose $5,000,000 annually through the ravages of woodpeckers and insects.

HEAR HIM TONIGHT

Eddie Lambert, below, will entertain tonight over KREG in the frolic to be staged in co-operation with the Fox West Coast theaters of Santa Ana. Lambert is a real comedian and has demonstrated his fun making ability on the stage, screen and over the air. The frolic, bringing numerous other entertainers to the microphone, will be on the air from 10:30 p. m. to midnight.

PRAISES TYPE OF MUSIC ON CHILDREN'S PROGRAM

Mothers who wish their children to hear good music and entertainment can safely tune in on the KREG children's hour.

Mrs. E. R. Schneider, of Garden Grove, wrote to Lorene Croddy, director of the junior hour, to express her appreciation for the programs, and closed with the above words. "My small son and I," wrote Mrs. Schneider, "have enjoyed your new children's broadcast and I wish to congratulate you because the little children sing songs suitable to their age instead of the up-to-date love songs so many stations feature on the children's programs."

LISTS ARTISTS FOR KREG-FOX STUDIO FROLIC

Here they are—the stars of tonight's KREG-Fox West Coast theaters frolic, on the air from 10:30 p. m. to midnight, as announced by Norman Sprowl, master of ceremonies:

Eddie Lambert, "triple threat" comedian of the stage, screen and radio;
Joan McGowan, the three voiced girl;
Dana Warren, xylophone player;
Malacca and Chang, Chinese musicians;
Terrill and Fawcett, comedians;

Oon Harrie, singer;
Stacey and Claire, comedy;
And the Fox orchestra of seven pieces.

With Norman Sprowl, Fox theaters manager here, acting as master of ceremonies, it will be a real show if there ever was one on the air.

If a frolic needs variety, just consider what this one will be with Chinese music, xylophone harmony, a three voiced girl, comedy and high class vocal artists, blended into an hour and a half of entertainment.

GARDEN GROVE

"Follow Me"

Matt. 4:19

Garden Grove Methodist Church

Jesus said, "Follow me." (Matt. 4:19). We follow Jesus by attempting to the utmost of our powers to live our life in the spirit of our Master, and this is "being a Christian."

As we seek earnestly to live our life in the spirit of our Master we gain power for further spiritual conquests. We lose power when we fail thus to live. To regain power we must go back to the point where we departed from closely following Him and there begin again to live in His spirit.

We should follow Jesus in His prayer life. Failure in the Christian life often begins here. We begin to neglect or limit the time spent in fellowship with God. Christ spent many hours alone in the mountain in communion with the Father. From those hours of exaltation and inspiration He came back to the multitudes to heal the bodies and souls of men and to teach them in words that glowed with the illuminating presence of God.

The experience of the Christian centuries confirms the wisdom on the part of men of spending much time in prayer and meditation and communion with God. When this has been done the power of God's grace has flowed into the church for great achievements. On the other hand, those periods marked by meagre achievements have also been those times when the prayer life of the church has been at a low ebb.

The Grace of God is about us like the ocean of air in which we live. We contact it by prayer. We should ask that the Christ teach us the secrets of prayer.

We are to follow Jesus in transmuting the appetites and passions of the body and the wayward inclinations of the mind into spiritual power. He was a being of like passions with us, but how marvelously different did He live His life. So highly did He esteem the pure life that He said to His disciples and would say to us, "If thy hand offend thee, cut it off." "If thy eye offend thee, pluck it out." But He showed us a better way. Living close to God transmutes these obstreperous powers into spiritual power. There is a divine alchemy that can change the leaden instincts and passions and appetites into the pure gold of a Christ-like life.

We are to follow Jesus in our attitude toward and in our relation with our fellow men. Jesus said, "Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you and pray for them that despitefully use you and persecute you." It was this spirit in the early church which gave them their great victory over the pagan Roman empire. That principle applied not only to that age but applies to this age and to every age. It goes beyond the Golden Rule. It is an eternal principle of conduct. Its application enriches the life; its non-observance impoverishes the life.

Is your life rich in joy and peace and satisfaction? If not, look to your path. Are you following Jesus closely, or, like Peter, afar off? The disciple who follows closest knows the greatest blessing.

"Jesus calls us o'er the tumult
Of our life's wild, restless sea;
Day by day His sweet voice soundeth,
Saying, Christian, follow me!"

Women Who Never Grow Old

By HELEN WELSHIMER

THIS story has nothing to do with Fanny Ward, 65, or Edna Wallace Hopper, 69, self-styled perennial flappers. Nor has it anything to do with women who buy youth over the counter and put it on in front of a mirror. Any old girl can do that, and get away with it.

But you can count on the fingers of one hand the women of from 40 to 70 who, without the help of plastic surgery or beauty specialists or trick diets, can look Time straight in the eyes and laugh at him, competing on an equal basis with flappers in such strenuous exercise as polo, marathon swimming and walking, tennis and aerial acrobatics.

And this story is about these five women who have refused to grow old.

To prove that age has nothing to do with speed, Miss Eleonora Sears, 46-year-old Boston society woman, still saunters off occasionally on the 44-mile walk from Providence to Boston. The last time she cut her time down to nine hours and 58 minutes.

Mrs. Thomas Hitchcock is 65 years old, but she still sits along the fence and tells the Meadowbrook team how to play polo. She has been the outstanding woman polo player and instructor of America for a long time now, but she can still show the youngsters a trick or two.

Mrs. Anna Van Skike, of California, has the habit of swimming 20 miles on a Pacific coast course every birthday. She was 70 in August, but she has proved that mermaids are ageless.

May Sutton Bundy, of Santa Monica, California, queen of the tennis courts, put on her crown long before Helen Wills was born. She is 41 years old now. But she's back at the net again, and proving that tennis doesn't know age limits.

Under the big top, while the bands play and the crowds hold their breath, Lillian Leitzel, a woman who will never see 35 again, hangs by one hand from a ring, 63 feet above the sawdust of the circus floor, and throws her slender body over her shoulder as many as 100 times, although 65 a performance is her average.

THESE women aren't undertaking strenuous physical exercise to be different. They aren't curious about page one stories. They do their stuff because it is fun and they like it.

And that, so they would tell you, is the secret of acting young. Just keep on doing the things you like to do. Exercised muscles won't let your bones crack.

Mrs. Thomas Hitchcock is still graceful and slender, although her blond hair is gray today.

Thomas Hitchcock, well-known turfman and polo player, is her husband. Tommy Hitchcock, junior, internationally famous as an American polo player, is her son. And she herself, who started her athletic career long ago when she was still Lillie Eustis, from the south, is still the first woman polo player in the United States.

Westbury, the home of the Hitchcocks, became the center of the Long Island hunting set, way back in 1891 when the Hitchcocks were married. Mrs. Hitchcock started out to train polo players. Her own son. All the other Long Island sons. And she still sits along the sidelines and directs the sport, after nearly 40 years.

It isn't just physical spirit that is back of the perennial activity of the woman polo player. It is a mental spirit that is out for adventure and sportsmanship. The thing which we sometimes call youth, in other words.

Tommy Hitchcock today is captain of the American Polo team, and has been acclaimed the best sitter who has ever rode in position No. 2 in polo.

AND Mrs. Hitchcock herself can play the game. The fathers of many of today's champions, and now and then a mother, but always Mrs. Hitchcock, have played against the Meadow Larks.

But her best work was as an instructor. When Francis Hitchcock, another son, was going to school down in Aiken, S. C., his mother sent him balls and mallets enough for two teams. She trained the boys who played with him, developing them into the Old Aiken team which last year carried off the Junior Championship, the Westbury Challenge Cup and the Herbert Memorial Trophy.

Mrs. Hitchcock loves homes with wide fireplaces, children and dogs and horses, and hospitality. She is very feminine, very charming, and very young.

The debutantes of the south and east, who have heard of her, are starting their own youth training now. Girls' teams are springing up. But Mrs. Hitchcock sits her pony and shows them all how one of the most strenuous of games should be played.

Then there is Mrs. Van Skike, who was already growing old before she ever learned to swim. Her physician had told her she was going to die. She went to California. But there was something invigorating in the air. Something sparkling that awakened the magic in her heart. She looked at the ocean and she wanted to swim.

After all, she was just waiting to die. Why shouldn't she try, she mused. There was nothing to lose.

Mrs. Thomas Hitchcock, Sr., critically watches her son, Tommy Hitchcock, Jr., as he whirls through a hot polo match. . . . Mrs. Hitchcock, though she is 65, has been the leading woman polo player and instructor in America for many years.

Here are the secrets of five famous American women who, though now beyond the dangerous forties, lead lives so strenuous that they put to shame girls half their age

Mrs. Anna Van Skike . . . was told at 60 that she had not long to live. . . . She learned to swim . . . and on her 70th birthday swam 20 joyous miles through the ocean surf.

May Sutton Bundy . . . though she is a mother with children old enough . . . to be coming along toward national tennis honors . . . is still able to give the best of them a run for their rackets.

Only youth could do it, they cry . . . as the crowds watch Lillian Leitzel's aerial stunts. . . . But this queen of acrobats is a mature woman.

SO one day she put on a bathing suit and slipped into the icy salt water. There was new life there. She stretched out her arms and tried the waves. But she needed lessons, so she went to the manager of a pool and asked for instructions.

It was slow work. Her muscles weren't co-ordinated. And she was growing old. But gradually she felt the rhythm of her body as it glided easily through the blue-green sea.

She knew suddenly that she was strong and well. She wasn't going to die! She was 60 years old then, so she decided that each year on her birthday she would celebrate the event with a long distance swim.

Now she is 70. But as her age limit goes up her swimming average keeps pace with it. Every day she walks from five to 10 miles along the wind-swept, sun-bright beach. Every day she swims from two to 10 miles.

So when her 70th birthday came the other day she threw herself joyfully into the waves and swam 20 miles, from the Venice pier, off the California coast, to the Santa Monica Canyon Lighthouse and return.

She was in the water only 12 hours and 10 minutes. Her grandchildren don't talk about the speed of the younger generation. They can't keep up with their grandmother. Mermaids, so they have decided, even those who have grandchildren, are ageless.

"Only youth could do it," the crowds whisper, lost in enchantment and admiration for the feat.

(Copyright, 1930, by EveryWeek Magazine—Printed in U. S. A.)

IT takes strength when your body is growing old, to force it to serve you.

"You won't get back," the doctors said. But there were five generations of circus families back of Lillian Leitzel, and double pneumonia was up against an indomitable will power.

Slowly she forced her body through tortuous exercises, until at last, one day, she sat again, on her giant swing, while the terrific heat of the flood lights played on her, and hung by one arm from a ring.

Again and again she hurled her heels over her head. And she knew that she had conquered. She had come back.

Lillian Leitzel refuses to work with a net under her. But she keeps in training all the time. Perfect condition is a better protection to her than any net.

Years are coming more quickly. There has been a long, long trail through the sawdust since Leitzel first heard the applause far below the Big Top where the spectators gathered. But she will troupe to the end.

And troupe with the lithesome grace and ease that a teen age girl displays.

Not because it is her duty, although the exercises are hard to do for anyone, and no man and only one woman has ever accomplished the 100 revolutions in the air, which she makes.

She does it because she loves it. And the fountain of youth finds an addict at the top of the tent.

And like Mrs. Hitchcock she is exceedingly feminine.

MISS ELEONORA SEARS, of Boston, is 46 years old now, but she has proved that age has nothing to do with the amount of ground a woman can cover. In the last few years Miss Sears has walked 42½ miles from Chateau Fontainebleau to Paris in 8 hours and 35 minutes, and done 74 miles from Newport to Boston in 16 hours and 15 minutes.

The 44-mile pilgrimage from Providence to Boston is just part of schedule, she has done it so many times.

Miss Sears likes to dance, and she knows the bewitching glamour of evening dresses. Walking keeps her young.

And being young gives her vivacity and ambition to make life sparkle.

Miss Sears does other things on the athletic calendar, too.

She once sailed a yacht against Alfred C. Vanderbilt's "Wal-thra"; she conducted a horse show in New York and left with blue ribbons pinned all over her blouse; she made the American woman's record long flight in an airplane; and she established herself as Newport's champion woman swimmer in a four-mile race.

She is getting close to 50 but she still looks young.

And acts young, which is far more important. Incidentally she is a polo enthusiast and has played with men as opponents, just as Mrs. Hitchcock has done.

MAY SUTTON BUNDY serves as accurately on the tennis court today as she did when she was 16. She has four children now, according to the general rule, but she isn't.

Once upon a time she was the champion woman tennis player of the world. That was before Helen Wills was born. And she can still send Helen Wills and Helen Jacobs and nearly everyone else to the net, or any place else she wants to, when she's on the court.

If she was a little younger she would be winding up at the top now, instead of almost at the top.

And she, too, plays for the love of the sport. Not to keep young. To have a good time. And because she does she can't grow old. Hers is a new brand of youth—and it is the best kind of youth there is, because it is youth that is independent of the years.

Miss Eleonora Sears of Boston . . . gives no hint of her 46 years as she strides on ahead . . . distancing younger walkers or playing a stiff game of squash.

Next Friday's Schedule
Anahelm at Tustin; Huntington Beach at Orange; Brea-Olinda at Excelsior; Newport Harbor at Garden Grove; San Juan Capistrano, bye.

Tustin high school was high and dry on top of the Orange league basketball standings today. Coach "Big Bill" Cole's flashy Farmers were the only undefeated spinners in the conference as a result of developments about the circuit last night.

Tustin turned back one of its warmest athletic rivals, Orange, 28-17, to keep its escutcheon unstained but this game was about the only one of the evening in which hope followed a true course. Anaheim defeated Brea-Olinda, 25-26, and Garden Grove upset Huntington Beach in another nose-diving finish, 21-20. Plucky little Newport Harbor, with a squad of eight, played its first game of the season but lost to San Juan Capistrano, 26-14.

Tustin finishes fast in the first half, the score being 10-5 in Tustin's favor at the intermission period. The Farmers were only coasting, however, and when they had to hit the ball they did.

"Hank" Thiery made eight of Tustin's ten points in the first half but the brilliant rebound got some help in the last two quarters. While the Orange guards were "taking care" of Thiery, they were forgetting about Thiery's running mate, "Chuck" Wetzel, who fired four field goals into the mesh in rapid succession. When Wetzel got through, Herb Lawrence, got busy. Lawrence sunk two more and by that time Tustin was all by itself out in front.

Tustin played with the services of Horace Ritter, a regular. Anaheim's victory over the Brea-Olinda Wildcats was something of a surprise although Coach Ben Carpenter's Colonials have played some fine basketball all year and are now real contenders for the flag.

Anahelm Leads From Start
Anahelm made every shot to good, leading 13-4 at the quarter. 17-12 at the half and 22-21 at three-quarters. Brea-Olinda looked like it might win as the teams went into the stretch but Anaheim kept pace, scoring five points while the Wildcats were doing the same.

Santa Ana's only basketball team with championship prospects was blasted to bits when the Saint Class C quintet lost to Glendale high school's "C" hoopers, 26-18, at Glendale yesterday.

After the Santa Anans had led the scoring for the majority of the game, the Glendale "Cees" snatched victory from their hands in a hair-raising last quarter rally. Loss of this game will definitely put the Saint "Little Men" out of the championship race unless something drastic happens to the Dynamiters in their final game with Compton.

Led in scoring by their versatile guard, Lund, the Blasters seemed to have it all over the locals, except in missing fouls. Glendale got the first score in the first few seconds of play. Santa Ana collected one on a foul a few minutes later and followed with a field goal. The blasters soon evened the count and then passed it. At half-time the score was 10-9 in favor of Glendale.

Coming out for the second half, the Saints raised the score to 18-15, the largest lead they enjoyed in the whole game, but just as they apparently hit their pace the Dynamiters broke loose with a terrific barrage of shots. Five of these found their way through the mesh and spelled the downfall of the plucky little Saint quintet.

Next week the Cookmen engage the Jackrabbits from Long Beach. Poly and the following week, clash with Fullerton in their final Coast Preparatory league tussle. Both games will be played here.

S. A. GOLFERS PLAY LONG BEACH SUNDAY

Santa Ana Country club's golf squad travels to the fine Long Beach Country club's course tomorrow for its second Southern California Inter-club league match. Captain G. C. Rose's Santa Anans will be honor guests at a big outdoor picnic luncheon during their stay at the Wintersburg acres. Last Sunday Santa Ana's golfers beat the Hacienda Country club team, 19 1/2 to 1 1/2.

JONES STOPS ROWSEY
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7. —"Gorilla" Jones, 154, won a technical knockout victory against Frank Rowsey, 157, Los Angeles, in the eighth round of a scheduled 10-round main event here last night.

A swift descent, next the daring leap pictured here, then a final spectacular plunge to the foot of an icy slope... there were thrills aplenty for spectators and contestants alike at the Metropolitan Ski tournament at Norseman's Hill, N. Y. Above, Anton Lekang, one of the skiing stars, is shown leaping bird-like through mid-air with the crowd far below him. The meet was staged by the Norseman Ski club of New York.

SANTA ANA DON CAGERS PLAY AT GLENDALE TONIGHT; COUNT ON DUNHAM TO LEAD OFFENSE

Thoroughly disgusted at losing basketball games in the last few minutes of play, the Santa Ana junior college Dons will invade the lair of the Glendale Buccaneers tonight in their fourth attempt to win a conference victory. Game-time is 8 o'clock.

Inasmuch as neither Dons nor Bucs have won a league game, a royal battle should be in prospect to determine which college shall have undisputed possession of the cellar spot in the percentage column. Santa Ana fell before Long Beach, Compton and Pasadena, each game being lost in the last minute of play, while Glendale has bowed by larger scores to Fullerton, Los Angeles, Long Beach and Pasadena.

One other yardstick gives the Dons a slight edge in the figuring. When the Phoenix junior college Bears invaded Southern California several weeks ago, they defeated Glendale twice, Pasadena twice and San Bernardino once. When Santa Ana made the long trek to Fullerton last week, the Dons were barely nosed out 28-25 and 24-22 and several of their stars were not in the game.

Santa Ana will be without the services of Captain Orv Schuchardt, their leading scorer.

Dunham and Seacord will open as usual at the two forward posts. Appleby has the jumping center job. Dunham and Johnson and Lindsey will start at guards. Dunham went wild in the last game, scoring 15 points, and will be counted on to lead the attack against Glendale. Garlock, a revamped guard, is also going great guns at forward and will be plenty of action tonight. Beatty at center, Lindley at guard and Allen and Higashi at forwards are reserves who will also get to play.

Conference standings follow:
JUNIOR COLLEGE CONFERENCE
Los Angeles.....4 0 1.000
Pasadena.....3 1 .750
Long Beach.....2 2 .500
Compton.....1 3 .250

In addition to demonstrating his ability at trick and fancy shots, Mossman says he will give a series of daredevil exhibitions on his motorcycle.

Mossman will play leading Santa Ana pitchers and give a set of nickel-plated pitching shoes to those who beat him. He will perform a number of difficult stunts, one of these being to light with a pitched shoe a match at a hot end of a peg and then extinguish the flame with another shoe.

Ernie Lombardi, Oakland's huge catcher, the boy with a nose like Rolie Zeider's, is going up to catch some ball games for the Brooklyn Dodgers this year. He is a .370 hitter and his throwing arm is better than average.

There are going to be no babies in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dempsey—take it from Estelle Taylor, the "Mrs." of the combination. The film star told interviewers in New Orleans that she plans to continue her career in the talkies too steadily to raise a family. She and Jack are shown here, as they posed together in one chair in a New Orleans hotel.

TROJANS, CARDS PLAY 'RUBBER' IN HOOP SERIES

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7.—With both teams fighting to remain in the running for the Pacific Coast conference, Southern division, championship, University of Southern California and Stanford will meet tonight at 8 o'clock on the basketball floor of the Olympic auditorium. The two teams are now tied for second place in the league standings, while they are also knotted at one victory each in their annual three-game series.

Coach Sam Barry of U. S. C. announced that he would stick to the lineup that defeated California last week-end despite the fact that two of the regulars, Captain Wilbur Caldwell and Cliff Capps, have missed several practice sessions. An attack of the flu, while Capps was kept on the bench with an injured leg but both are expected to be back in good shape tonight.

"Flucky Jerry" Nemer, who was both the big shot and the big dribbler of the Trojan victories over California last week-end, flanked hold down the center job, flanked by right forward and Bill Pierce at left forward.

Stanford's lineup will be the same that has won the last three games for the Palo Altoans. Phil Moffatt, football star, will pair up at forward with Tom Cordry, a small, flashy star of the Nemer type. Big Mike Reynolds will be at forward with Rudy Rintala, another football man, at one guard and Vane Fawcett, former sensational Hollywood high school player, at the other defensive spot.

The varsity game will be preceded at 6:30 p. m. by a contest between the Trojan Frosh and Glendale high school's fast quintet.

ORANGE COUNTY NINES TO SEE ACTION SUNDAY

Weather permitting, three baseball games will be played on Orange county diamonds tomorrow afternoon. Santa Ana, Cypress, Anapama Rancho, El Toro, Huntington Beach and the Anaheim Merchants will see action.

Carl Ruecker and Darwin Scott will take their Santa Ana Hancock Oilers to El Toro for a whirl at George Stevens' recently organized aggregation.

Santa Ana is negotiating with Tustin officials for the use of the Tustin high school diamond as a home grounds and if successful will meet there strong clubs from Los Angeles and Long Beach in the coming weeks.

D. Eymann Huff's reorganized Anapama Rancho All-Nations nine will make its first appearance of the year at Huntington Beach.

With no less than nine nationalities represented on the roster, the Ranchmen figure to add considerable color to the section's baseball this winter.

Ralph ("Chief") Rojas, an Indian, is manager, captain and first string pitcher for the Huffmen. Rojas has stocked the lineup with several Mexicans, a Japanese, a Negro, a Swede, a Filipino, a Chinese and a Cuban.

"Uncle Dave" Stewart, manager of the Huntington Beach Oilers, will send his usual strong aggregation against Huff's conglomerate.

Cypress, marking time until it moves to a new park in the immediate vicinity of Anaheim, will play Ray Ortiz's Anaheim Merchants, a fast Mexican club.

ADAMS WINS O. S. C. RING CHAMPIONSHIP

Ed Adams, former Santa Ana junior college football and track star, is now middleweight boxing champion of Oregon State college. He dethroned a former titleholder, Pat Malone, in the final round of the college tournament recently. The bout was a thriller with Adams coming from behind in the last three rounds to punch his way to the decision. Malone had the Santa Ana southpaw down for a short count in the opening stanza.

Shasta Broom In Kentucky Classic

SAN CLEMENTE, Feb. 7.—Shasta Broom, winner of the Speed handicap at Agua Caliente last Sunday, has been entered in the 1931 Kentucky Derby which will be run May 16. The horse was enrolled in the American racing classic by Mrs. Hamilton H. Cotton who recently purchased the horse. Entries for the famous $50,000-added race closed Wednesday.

SAINTS MAKE HISTORY

Although it was the most glorious triumph in the 29-year old history of Santa Ana basketball—and the most amazing. Although Mitchell was the Merriwell, three other newcomers to the first string lineup were marked down as brilliant stars. The three, Paul Jacques, James Lash and Floyd Blower, acted like seasoned veterans. Jacques scoring 15 points to pace the Saints in the scoring department. "Red" Kidder and Lutz, holders, also played marvelous basketball.

The whirlwind finish had the fans in a turmoil as Glendale had slowly closed the gap that separated them from the Saints and tied it up at 28-21 in the middle of the third quarter.

From that point the Dynamiters forged ahead to take a 35-32 lead and it looked like everything was over but the shouting until Jacques and Lash scored two foul shots, leaving Glendale one point to the good. Mitchell then put on his little act to end the bitterly fought contest.

Starting out right, the Saints collected a total of 14 digits in the first quarter while the excellent guarding prevented Glendale from tallying at all. It was an entirely different story in the next session, however, the Dynamiter regulars counting 12 digits to 2 for Santa Ana which led the score at half-time, 16-12 for the Saints.

The third quarter was featured by the rough playing on both sides. Santa Ana barely retaining the lead by two points, mainly through the stellar work of Jacques and Lash.

The lineup:

STATE SECOND IN PRODUCING BERMUDA ONION

BY HOMER L. ROBERTS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Special to The Register)

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 7.—A few years ago a popular song came into prominence, entitled "When It's Sweet Onion Time in Bermuda."

That was all right, a few years ago. Today, however, California rivals even Bermuda in the production of Bermuda onions. Only one other state, Louisiana, exceeds this state in the total production of this pungent vegetable.

From 2,850 acres in 1926, the crop has grown until last year 3,450 acres were planted, 3,000 of which were in the Coachella valley, Riverside county, Kern county had 200 acres, Tulare county 100, and Imperial valley and Los Angeles, 150 acres.

A special onion cutter is used for the first operation. The cutter, a knife built into a long sled-like frame, is pulled with one or two horses down the rows. The blade slides under the row from one to four inches below the roots of the bulbs. This loosens the roots and due to a tilt of the blade pushes the onions upward.

After the cutting or loosening process is complete, the onions are pulled and piled with all tops placed on way. One family or group of people usually work together on this operation. They are known as "toppers" and are of the peon class of Mexicans. The onions are then clipped with shears and left in piles so the necks will dry down. Texas and Egypt are the greatest competitors to California onion growers. The Texas crop, being farther south, matures earlier, and reaches eastern markets several weeks in advance of the California crop. The Egyptian crop, shipped in fute bags, must now meet a tariff of 1 1/2 cents a pound. They are bought largely in New York, Boston and Philadelphia.

SAYS POTASH NOT GOOD FERTILIZER

Application of potash as a fertilizer for peaches and prunes brought no results in yield, quality or maturity, in tests made by the University of California division of pomology. According to Dr. E. L. Proebsting, who conducted the experiments, the peach trees took the potassium from the soil, but made no use of it in crops produced. The prunes did not show that the potash had been taken into the tree at all.

Nitrogen was applied also in the test on peaches, which was made in the Tuscan orchard of F. C. Wood, near Hughson, Stanislaus county. Leaf samples and fruit from the trees given potassium showed an appreciable amount had been taken up by the tree. However, the results indicate that peaches growing on a soil rather low in potassium, says Dr. Proebsting, where fixation is not great enough to prevent the trees from getting some of the material applied, do not respond measurably to potassium applications either in yield, maturity or quality.

FOLLOW DROUGHT

Bark beetles follow a drought, and the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports that there is a large increase in the number of such insects ravaging trees in drought-stricken territory. Destroyed by burning next year, the department advises.

BREEDS ORCHIDS FOR FUN

If Dr. David Lunden, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, were a sailor, he'd probably spend his spare time rowing a boat. But he's a plant specialist, so he spends his spare time raising prize orchids. Here you see him with a flask containing 1500 orchid seedlings. They are valued at more than $10,000 to a commercial orchid breeder. Each seedling is the result of a hand-made cross-breeding, and it will be seven years before they bloom. No wonder orchids come so high.

U. S. PREDICTS BETTER TIMES FOR FARMERS

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 7.—Prospects for gradual recovery of California agricultural prospects are set in the annual outlook report of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics released for publication today. The report says:

"There is some prospect for gradual recovery in the domestic demand for farm products the latter half of this year and for lower production costs. Except in the case of wheat and pork products, some recovery in foreign demand also seems likely. This prospect of improvement is based on the belief that the world wide economic depression will have run the worst of its course by the summer of 1931 as consumption of many industrial products is now out-running production. Prospects also will be affected by the volume of agricultural production in 1931. Although production credit may be curtailed, ample marketing credit is expected. Farm wages are the lowest in many seasons and building materials and fertilizer prices are lower than they were a year ago.

"Dairy industry expanded to the point where even with the expected improvement in the business situation the former favorable relations of prices of dairy products to the prices of other farm products will not be restored this year. Domestic prices of dairy production have declined nearly to the world level and foreign markets do not afford an advantageous outlet to American dairy products.

"Some improvement in the price trend of eggs may be expected during the last half of 1931. Poultry prices for the first half of 1931 are expected to be somewhat above those of the same period a year ago.

"Increased supplies of potatoes in prospect in the 1931 crop year will more than offset any improvement in demand. A large increase in sweet potato production is ex-

POULTRY WORK DISCUSSED BY GROUP FEB. 26

BY W. M. CORY
Assistant Farm Advisor

The poultry department of the Orange County Farm bureau has planned a complete course of instruction in poultry husbandry to be given at the monthly meetings of the department. The basis of the subject matter is the correspondence course given by the extension division of the University of California.

As many as will be asked to enroll for the course. These people will act as discussion leaders at the meeting, talking over the material in the lesson received that month. Others will add their experiences in the subject under discussion. This will give a splendid basis of instruction for beginners and freshen the memory of those experienced in poultry raising. These meetings will be open to the public with no charges as they will be held under the auspices of the Agricultural Extension service and the farm bureau.

Approximately one hour will be devoted to subject matter discussion, 30 minutes to marketing and 30 minutes to general topics, such as tariff, legislation, etc. The meetings will be held at the farm advisor's office in Santa Ana every fourth Thursday night in the month.

Application may either be made to the farm advisor's office or direct to the Agricultural Extension Division, College of Agriculture, Berkeley.

300 EXPECTED FOR SCHOOL OF AVOCADO MEN

Plans for the first extension school in California for avocado growers at La Habra on March 10 and 11 are under way, according to announcement from the office of Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg. Members of the staff of the University of California who have been associated with avocado investigations during the past decade have been secured to present special subject matter at the school.

F. D. Halm, chairman of the inter-county avocado growers' department of the farm bureau, reports that the auditorium of the Lincoln school on Walnut street, La Habra, has been secured for the sessions. Among the speakers who will discuss cultural phases of growing avocados are C. V. Newman, manager, San Joaquin Fruit company, and president of Calavo Growers' association; W. R. Schoonover, specialist, College of Agriculture; J. G. France, Agricultural Extension service, San Diego county; Harold E. Wahlberg, Agricultural Extension service, Orange county; Dr. W. T. Howe, pathologist, experiment station, Riverside; J. R. Brown, irrigation specialist, University of California, and others.

Prominent growers will act as chairmen of each session. Judge F. D. Halm, La Habra, Tuesday morning; George P. Smith, San Diego, Tuesday afternoon; and J. M. Thillie, Ventura, Wednesday afternoon.

Between 200 and 300 growers are expected to attend from all parts of Southern California.

CARROTS ALL-YEAR CROP IN CALIFORNIA

Carrots are an all-year crop in many sections of the Pacific coast. For a continuous supply of baby carrots as well as the mature roots, the home gardener makes sowing of seeds frequently. Just a short row, planted at frequent intervals, will keep the home table well supplied with the most nutritious and tasty vegetable. Baby carrots are a year round delicacy, and one which does not cloy the palate. The use of the mature roots as a flavor for stews, soups, etc., is now indispensable. The carrot even appears now in the famous Irish stew, although denizens of the Old Sod protest its orange hue in this famous dish. And dried raw they are a delicious addition to a salad.

Carrots like rich soil and good cultivation. They grow well under most any circumstances but good roots of uniform size and high quality cannot be expected if they are not given good cultivation. Do not crowd them in the row—give them room to develop good roots. As you pull the baby carrots thin out to several inches apart, thus they are to be grown to maturity.

PLANT SWEET CORN IN SQUARES, ADVISE

It may be interesting to many people to know that corn should be planted in squares instead of in one continuous row, for example, if the single row is planted north and south with prevailing east or west wind, the pollen from the tassels would be blown away. If planted in squares the pollen will be received by the silks for each tiny silk must receive its grain of pollen if it is to produce a corresponding grain of corn on the cob.

When you harvest your first roasting ears, examine the ear carefully and note that each kernel of corn has its corresponding silking feature in the study of plant life.

Westerners enjoy a longer season of sweet corn because of the favorable climatic conditions. Some of the well-known varieties include Oregon Evergreen, Early Golden, Golden Mantam, Country Gentlemen, etc. Be sure to pull the suckers as they appear. Leave only the main stalk for best results.

Crashes Reduced With Good Tires On Says Dealer

"With registrars of motor vehicles all over the country doing everything in their power to reduce the frightful annual toll of automobile accidents, it is up to every man who drives an automobile to cooperate in every way possible in an effort to save a life," says Mr. Orval Lyon, local Fisk tire merchant. Every driver can be of help in decreasing fatal accidents if he makes certain that his tires are in perfect condition to withstand fast driving and rapid stopping. In some states, pointed out Mr. Lyon, laws have been passed requiring frequent tire inspection and negligent motorists are warned when their tires are too thin for safety. Tire manufacturers also are doing all they possibly can to lessen the frightful toll. Leading makes of tires such as Fisk Air-Flights have been built to stand high speed driving and tread designs have been carefully designed to minimize sliding and skidding on wet or slippery pavements.

SEEK PRODUCTS IN SOUTHWEST DESERT REGION

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio, Feb. 7.—Certain desert plants of the United States may become sources of hundreds of products utilized in large quantities by industries of the country, as the result of work done by the Industrial Research Institute of Antioch college here. Equipped with a portable laboratory, J. W. H. Aldred, Antioch professor, LeRoy Dearing, chemistry graduate, and Hadley Case, co-operative student, set out last July for the desert wilds of New Mexico, Arizona, Southern California and Utah. Their object was to find these plants which produced resins, gums, glucosides, alkaloids, rubber and oils used in food products.

The three plant men moved over roads scarcely more than a pair of ruts, along foot and horse trails through hills and low mountain ranges. Here and there they would stop, set up their portable laboratory, and begin their experiments. Plants were gathered, crushed, tasted and smelled. If these physical tests seemed promising, the plants were subjected to a preliminary chemical analysis in the little laboratory in which were stored essential reagents and instruments.

Hundreds of cactus plants were analyzed. Sage weed came in for its share of experimenting. Other plants, too numerous to mention, went through the stills and retorts of the little laboratory.

Half Of Asparagus Crop Of U.S. Grown In Golden State

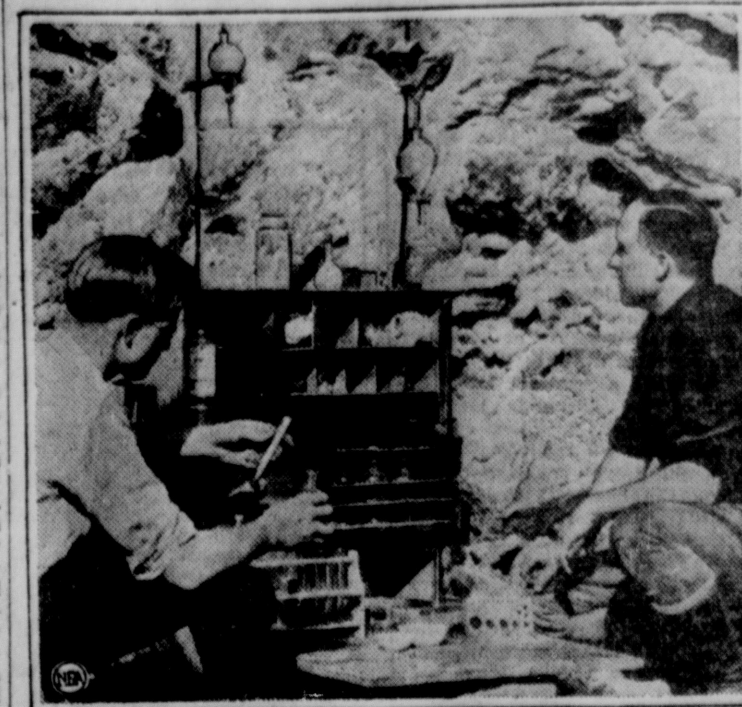

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 7.—More than half the asparagus grown in the United States is raised in California, according to an estimate by the state department of agriculture.

Within the last 10 or 12 years this succulent vegetable has become perhaps the most important and valuable of all perennial truck crops in the country.

About half the asparagus is

TIME IS HERE FOR PLANTING OF ONION SETS

Onion sets are a convenience for the home gardener. They produce the little green table onions quickly because they half-grown at the time of planting. Now is the time to make the third or fourth planting of these sets, as most Pacific gardeners have them growing during the fall and winter months as well as in the spring. Usually these sets are on sale from October to late spring and plantings can be made at intervals of two or three weeks, to maintain a succession of green onions, until those grown from seed are large enough for table use.

Onions from sets grow rapidly during the cool weather and the better the soil, the better the young onions and the faster they will develop. They may be planted thickly and thinned out as they are pulled for use. An inch apart is ample room.

The onions which are not pulled for table use may be left to make mature onions. Onion sets are produced from seed but they are artificially matured, while they are small, and when again replanted they continue their natural growth. This is done as a matter of convenience to the home gardener that he may plant the onion sets which will continue their growth and produce the green onions for table use within a few weeks, in comparison with the several months' time required to produce the same size onion from seed. It is not good practice to plant sets solely for the purpose of producing mature onions for the ultimate result of the halt in their growth (as occasioned by the sets) will be the production of thick-necked onions and seed heads. Mature onions should be grown from seed and the growth should be continuous without interruption, as in the case of the onion sets.

DAIRY ESTIMATE

It is estimated by the U. S. Bureau of Dairy Industry that the average yearly production per cow of the 22,500,000 milk cows in the United States is 4600 pounds of milk containing 130 pounds of butterfat.

The five Nobel prizes, averaging about $40,000 each annually, are awarded from a fund bequeathed by Nobel, a Swedish inventor, to the persons who have made greatest contributions to medicine, physics, chemistry, literature and peace.

"ROYAL FAMILY BROADWAY" HERE TOMORROW

Marion Davies In "Bachelor Father" Here Monday

STAR'S NEWEST PICTURE GREAT COMEDY SHOW

"The Bachelor Father," which will come to the Fox West Coast Theatre as a new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, stars Marion Davies, the vivacious blonde comedienne and is regarded as an ideal vehicle for her talents. This is Miss Davies' fourth dialogue film, her first having been "Marianne," directed by Robert Z. Leonard, who also screened her new picture, "The Florodora Girl" was the last film appearance of the popular star.

Heading the supporting cast and again playing the title role he created on the stage here and abroad is C. Aubrey Smith, British veteran of the theater, who was imported from London for the part. Although Smith has appeared in British-made talkies, this is his first appearance on the screen in this country.

Ralph Forbes, popular leading man, plays opposite Miss Davies in the romantic lead. His last films were "A Lady of Scandal" and "Her Wedding Night."

Most of the action takes place on the English estate of Sir Basil Winterbottom, where Miss Davies, as a Hogan's Alley waif, takes her place as the baronet's long-lost daughter. In the hilarious complications, she wins the affections of the dashing young barister as well as the heart of the grumpy old Britisher. She is revealed as an impostor, however, and she stows aboard a trans-Atlantic airplane to escape the disgrace heapd upon her. A crash at the take-off saves her life and brings her back to the estate, more welcome and loved than before.

Mary Pickford went on the road at the age of eight. . . . Marilyn Miller was a toe dancer at the age of five, billed as "Miss Sugar Plum." . . . Her real name is Marilyn Reynolds and she was born in Evansville, Ind., Sept. 1, 1900. . . . Ina Claire made her first stage appearance in 1907, impersonating Harry Lauder.

COMING

BOYD'S LATEST FILM ONE OF BEST WESTERNS

Packed with dynamic drama, thrills and romance, "The Painted Desert" a Pathe western picture featuring William Boyd, Helen Twelvetrees, William Farnum and J. Farrell Macdonald, scored a genuine hit on its premier showing at the Fox West Coast theater yesterday. In "The Painted Desert" Bill Boyd has his finest picture in many months. Ringing with real old time action the part gives Bill an opportunity to wade in and do things—and he does. A smashing cattle stampede and a race with death along a yawning canyon, driving a twenty-mule team like mad are but a part of this thrilling story.

The story of "The Painted Desert" deals with a twenty-year-old feud of two old pioneers that had its start on the desert when they found Bill as an infant deserted in a covered wagon. An argument as to who would take the child develops and results in one of them, Cosh Holbrook, played by William Farnum, riding off with the youngster. Jeff Cameron, played by J. Farrell Macdonald, settles at a water hole, marries and has a daughter, impersonated by Helen Twelvetrees. Holbrook becomes a power in the cattle country. Scene after scene of intense interest follow.

PLAYS WESTERN ROLE

GREAT STAGE PLAY SLATED AS BIG MOVIE

Four actors have become actors for the sake of a play.

Ina Claire, Fredric March, Mary Brian and Henrietta Crossman are the actors, and the play in which they act the parts of actors is "The Royal Family of Broadway" which comes to the Fox Broadway Theatre Sunday for a four day run.

"The Royal Family" is the intimate, amusing and at times hilarious presentation of a mythical family of reigning performers on the American stage. It reveals their private lives, their family pride in the great tradition of their clan and their loyalty to the stage they have so long dominated. Miss Crossman is seen as the stately grandmother of the Cavenish clan. Miss Claire is her daughter, the leading emotional actress of the stage; Miss Brian is the granddaughter, about to enter the life of the theatre; March is the family's representative in the movies — headstrong, impulsive, lordly, a master of both comedy and tragedy, a genius possessed of the amusing mannerisms and idiosyncrasies of the type.

"The Royal Family of Broadway" possesses a wealth of comedy, satire, romance and pathos. It is a picture among pictures, a triumph of the new era of talkies. In the opinions of critics who have previewed it in New York.

"SPOILERS" 1ST FILM SOLD ON ROYALTY BASIS

The first story ever sold on royalty basis for motion picture production was "The Spoilers," according to information brought to light by Paramount during the recording of this famous thriller as an all-talking picture. It opens tomorrow for three days at Walker's State Theatre.

It was in 1913 that Selig was first approached by Rex Beach with an offer to sell the story for the screen. Negotiations between the two were conducted by John Pribyl, literary agent for Selig, who was somewhat astounded when Beach demanded $2,500 for the screen rights. The figure was unprecedented in the industry.

An agreement was finally reached whereby Beach was to receive a certain royalty of the gross returns. He subsequently realized a fortune from the deal—receiving many times the amount he had first demanded.

The story has since become one of the greatest pieces of motion picture property in the industry. Paramount secured the screen rights through Edwin Carewe, who bought them as a personal investment several years ago.

'STAMPEDE' BEGAN BY PARAMOUNT

"Stampede," an adventure story of the colorful pioneer days that bridged the gap between Indian warfare and America's industrial birth, has gone into production at the Paramount studios in Hollywood.

The story takes place just after the Civil War, and shows the greatest of all cattle drives from the plains of Texas to the markets of Kansas, then the far-western terminal of civilization. Fay Wray, as the courageous Talsie, who leads her sixteen loyal cowmen and an immense herd of cattle over an unblazed trail for hundreds of miles, has the chief female role, while Richard Arlen is the young man who guards her from many perils, while she believes him to be in league with the carpet-baggers.

West Coast Vodvil Acts Exceptional

Five acts of vaudeville, which show much variety and much music and comedy are booked into the West Coast theater today and tomorrow after pleasing large crowds at the opening last night.

Xylophone acts generally get tiresome before the act is finished, but not so with the opening act on the present bill. It may be the girl who operates the wooden blocks, and not her music, but the act "clicks" just the same all the way through. It has lots of pep and "Mercedes" as the act is called gives a variety of numbers that any audience will like.

Eddie Lambert heads the bill for the week with his "Excellit Attentun" stuff that keeps the crowd in a good humor through out the show and the Fox West Coast is lucky to get an act like his.

Terrell and Fawcett also is a big time act, with good dancing and fast comedy and Malacca and Chang, musicians were well liked last night.

In addition to the vaudeville show is seen "The Painted Desert" with Bill Boyd.

CLIVE BROOK JOINS BANKHEAD IN EAST

Clive Brook, Paramount screen player, has reached New York to start rehearsals for "New York Lady," with Tallulah Bankhead, England's favorite American stage star who has just been signed to a contract by the film company.

The production, being written by Donald Ogden Stewart, is to be directed by George Cukor, co-director of "The Royal Family of Broadway."

'CANARY' RETURNS TO RESUME FILM LIFE

Returning to Hollywood after an absence of more than two years, Louise Brooks, the girl in "The Canary Murder Case," will have her first talking film part in that length of time as a member of the all-star cast in Paramount's romantic comedy farce of big business, "It Pays to Advertise."

"FRONT PAGE" NOW BEING MADE MOVIE

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 24—"The Front Page," Howard Hughes' next film-play, is now in production at the United Artists studio.

Under direction of Lewis Milestone, the industry's most talked-about director, and with a brilliant all-star line-up of players, the celluloid edition of this sensational newspaper story is in the making at last.

It was two years ago that Howard Hughes bought this story for the screen at a cost of $125,000.

"The Front Page" is Lewis Milestone's first directorial effort since "All Quiet on the Western Front," which the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences adjudged the best picture of 1930.

Construction on Verdugo road in North Glendale is practically complete. Traffic is using the route with little or no inconvenience, advises the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.
